Stick This On Your Spindle

A Nurse Says:

"I have been a trained nurse for some fifteen years, and like many nurses, drank strong coffee. About two years ago I had to call a halt. I missed my coffee until some one recommended Postum, which I have used ever since, recommending it to many of my patients."

A Teacher Says:

"I have been a coffee drinker ever since I can remember. I have been teaching school for sixteen years, and became more and more nervous. I could not sleep. After reading some of your literature I decided to try Postum. I have been using it about thirty days; my nerves have improved; I have no headache; sleep peacefully, and am able to do my school work better."

A Doctor Says:

"I often find it necessary to prohibit the use of coffee for my patients, and have advised the use of Postum with good results to the nervous system and digestive apparatus."

When the time comes that you want to get rid of coffee troubles, quit coffee and use

LECTURE BY DR. HOUSE APPRECIATED BY CROWD

Het weather has no effect upon Dr. House lectures, for the Baptist church was nearly filled in the afternoon yesterday and last night it was overflowing. There is no doubt but what the lectures have struck a popular chord. Last night's lecture on "Suggestion" was most interesting and instructive. He said: "Suggestion is that impression made upon the human mind through the senses sufficient to change the course of a man's life. It stands for a clear, definite thought of sufficient force to make an impression upon the subconscious mind, thereby altering and correcting physical processes. It is also that power by which we bring up from the subconscious, the strength, genius that makes us worth while to the world. If good were stored away in the depths of the subconscious mind, all would be well. But weakness, evil is stored there also."

Auto suggestion is one's conscious mind. Suggestion is what another gives to you. Auto suggestion is what you give yourself. The latter is the best when cultivated, because it saves one from the trickster or charlatan, one from the quack who creates and cures disease. To think disease is to bring it on. To create health in the ideal is to have it in the real.

This afternoon, the subject in "Hill Health." Tonight, "The Builders and Builders of Health."

HOUSE HAS FINISHED

Brought to a Focus

Late in the afternoon, Mr. Proctor, one of the leaders of the fight against these clauses moved to reconvene the report to the conference committee with instructions that they be distributed into those sections where they properly belonged. Mr. Proctor refused to withdraw his motion. He said that there were many parts of the bill he did not like but in the interest of harmony he would support the report but this thing he could not support since a principle was involved.

Mr. Powers was asked as to the probable result of a recommitment of the report. In his opinion, he said, there would be no result. He was convinced that the senate had yielded everything it would yield and an insistence by the house meant the defeat of the bill. Supplementing the remarks of Mr. Powers, Mr. Johns, another of the house managers said that the deliberations in the conference committee had been amicable he had observed at the close that the conferees were near the parting of the ways and he felt sure that another meeting would be attended by a fatal break. Mr. Richardson the third of the house managers believed that a further recommitment would be worse than useless. The Proctor motion was vigorously opposed by Messrs. Graham and Christy but it went to a vote with this result:

Ayes—Austin, Berry, Briscoe, Claypool, Cook, Edwards, Farrell, Goodwin, Lee, Lines, Mahoney, Pinkley, Proctor, Sweeney, Vaughn—15.

Nays—Acuff, Baker, Buchanan, Cristy, Doyle, Flanagan, Francis, Leeper, Marlar, Merrill, McLain, Newbury, Orthel, Powers, Reed, Richardson, the speaker—19.

The Last Act

If the motion had been adopted there would probably have been an interesting development in the house for it was stated that Mr. Powers, in expectation that it would be, had a typewritten resignation in his pocket which he intended to present, believing that any further negotiation with the senate would be useless.

The report had been read and now the final vote had come. The result was involved in the greatest doubt. To adopt the report, twenty-four votes were necessary and it was believed that the opponents while they might not have been able to muster eleven votes at the beginning, seemed to have gained strength during the discussion of the report amendments. As the roll proceeded so many of the members "passed" that the anxiety prevailed to the last. The result was:

Ayes—Acuff, Austin, Baker, Berry, Buchanan, Christy, Cook, Doyle, Flanagan, Goodwin, Graham, Johns, Lanford, Leeper, Lines, Marlar, Merrill, McLain, Newbury, Orthel, Powers, Reed, Richardson, the speaker—25.

Nays—Briscoe, Claypool, Edwards, Farrell, Francis, Lee, Mahoney, Pinkley, Proctor, Sweeney—10.

Votes Under Protest

Many of the members who voted for the report made speeches in the course of the roll call, generally denouncing the bill but with expressions of despair of securing anything better. The only member who spoke in favor of the bill was Mr. Newbury. It was the opinion of the members that the senate had succeeded in yielding little but securing much, more than the house could have brought itself to believe that it would ever give up. The senate had receded as to a lot of salaries which in the aggregate, did not amount to much and had added more than $100,000 in buildings which the house had not intended to appropriate. It had cut the appropriation for the tax commission to the bone and had left the land commission suspended in air. It had successfully attacked the prerogative of the governor and had probably left him without any other recourse than a fight in the courts.

Denunciation of Report

Mr. Lines especially attacked the report and the bill, because of the step backward the senate had taken in reducing the state school fund, from $500,000 to $100,000. Mr. Lines, however, held the house responsible in part for this outrage.

He made the only reference to that incident, though it was really the most important one. The members then looked at the report and studied the original house bill the more it was apparent what the senate had done to the bill. All of its own appropriations had been insisted upon and conceded in the report. The traveling expenses of the

PARTIES FROM EAST ARE ASKING ABOUT BORDERLAND ROUTE

Many inquiries being received and answered by Chamber of Commerce Relative to Condition of Route Between Here and Coast

The wide publicity which was given to the transcontinental dash of Edwin G. Baker in his Stutz racer has brought considerable advertising to the route he traveled, as well as the towns through which he passed. The publicity given to Baker's dash from San Diego here, featured exclusively in "The Republican," has brought numerous letters to Secretary Harry Welch of the Chamber of Commerce, inquiring into the conditions of the road west of here.

One letter in particular, from D. E. Culp of the Texas Good Roads association, informs him that a party is being made up from El Paso to come through here and asks him to get in touch with the party. A personal letter as well as a clipping from the Republican telling of Baker's dash between here and San Diego and a Borderland Guide were sent to him.

Several parties in New York and Brooklyn, who were contemplating a trip through to the coast, were sent full information of the same sort. The endless chain of advertising which the city will receive from this campaign to bring tourists through here will benefit the valley extensively as well as the route which is in time to become the most popular from coast to coast, says Secretary Welch, who is also attempting to get the colonization department of the Santa Fe to route parties over the scenic Roosevelt highway.

In a letter received yesterday from that department, he was informed that most of the parties they were sending west were made up and their plans definitely made, but if a reasonable charge could be arranged to make this trip, undoubtedly numbers of them could be persuaded to come this way. Mr. Welch has taken the matter up with the traffic department of the Santa Fe and expects that large parties will soon be coming through here en route to the coast.

PARDON BOARD

As the house suggested it would try to have enacted, abolishing capital punishment and providing for life imprisonment beyond hope of pardon was impossible and in contradiction of an amendment adopted last November still the board felt that it was under some pressure that required relief.

It was also stated that the board had arranged for a meeting at Florence tomorrow, the day before the execution, when it had been given out that no meeting would be held until June 2. Members of the senate wondered whether the board was going to stick to the house resolution. Telegrams were also received from out-of-town papers which had been informed of the approaching meeting of the board and they asked whether the board was wavering.

Yesterday afternoon Senator Webb introduced the resolution of commendation, which had been in course of preparation. It followed the provisions of the Arizona state constitution, and:

Whereas, The people of Arizona, at the general election held on November 3d, 1914, by an affirmative vote, approved the act creating a board of pardons and paroles, which act had been submitted to the vote of the people of the state as provided by the provisions of the Arizona state constitution; and mine inspector for which the house had made an appropriation of $7000 and been reduced to nothing; the traveling expenses of the board of control had been cut from $6000 to $2000; traveling allowance for the adjutant general had been stricken out. But there was the mining and engineering building and the flagstaff dormitory which the house did not want. There was also the electric power line from Scottsdale to Florence which the house had cut out by the activity of Mr. McMillan of Pinal. Altogether it was enough, as Mr. McLain stated in the course of the debate, to make one weep.

Whereas, The duties imposed upon said board of pardons and paroles

The senate will take up the report this morning and it is predicted that it will be adopted within ten minutes. If the vote is not unanimous it is thought there will not be more than one adverse vote.

There is conjecture as to the time when the next extra session will be called. It is said that the call could not be issued until the present session had adjourned and it is thought that an adjournment will be ordered today.

R. S. MAN SUED FOR DAMAGES TO PIERS

Trouble Between Property Owners and Reclamation Service to Be Aired Again in Court

Alleging that the tearing out of several concrete pillars located on property owned by them, between Central and First avenue, caused considerable damage, Hattie Mosher and W. B. Lount yesterday brought suit against A. J. Halton for $1218.96.

Halton, who is assistant engineer for the reclamation service, in charge of maintenance and operation of canals, was overseeing a gang of men who were cleaning out the "town ditch," otherwise known as the Salt River canal. The concrete piers, which protect land and buildings owned by the plaintiffs adjacent to the canal, were ordered taken out.

Mrs. Mosher and Lount had Halton arrested and he was tried in Justice Parker's court and discharged.

The papers filed aver that the piers were worth $58.96 and the removal of them deprived the adjacent property of protection from the encroachment of the water and caused the retaining walls to be undermined, causing damage to the extent of $200. It is alleged that this prevents the plaintiffs from using the property for commercial purposes and also prevents them from erecting a building.

In addition to the specific damages chronicled above the plaintiffs ask for punitive damages to the extent of $500 and costs.

END OF SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

Professor E. C. Bunch, in charge of the schools at Benson, was in the city yesterday, having closed a successful year there. Nine members of the eighth grade succeeded in passing the state examination for entrance to the high school. Professor H. Q. Robinson of Mesa, principal of the high school, and everybody looks forward to a prosperous school year.

are of extreme gravity and responsibility, and of the utmost importance to the people of the state; and

Whereas, said board has labored for several months in the performance of those duties which have been imposed upon it by the law of the state of Arizona; Therefore,

Be it Resolved, By the senate, that we hereby express our deep appreciation of the grave responsibilities placed upon said board of pardons and paroles, and of the efforts which its members have put forth in the performance of their difficult duties; and we hereby declare, that no matter how greatly individual opinions may differ upon the wisdom or want of wisdom of any law, we believe that the members of said board have attempted to conscientiously perform their serious duties, according to their best judgment under the law.

Only three dissenting votes were cast, by Mrs. Munds and Messrs. Drachman and McMillan. It is not understood that their votes were in disapproval of the course of the board of pardons and paroles, but that they were intended to be an expression of sympathy with the house resolution.

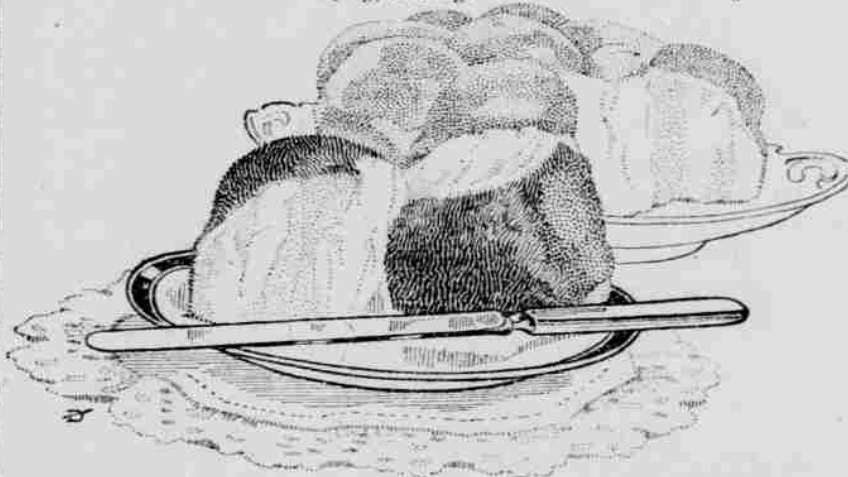

It was stated that a resolution of commendation of the board had also been prepared for introduction in the house today, and it was said that it would receive the support of several members, who had voted against their inclinations for the former house resolution.

These Crusto rolls are as good as they look. Brown crust outside — feather-light, delicious "meat" inside.

Besides delicacy of flavor and lightness there's this feature to Crustomade bread and rolls—they're pure white. That's because Crusto itself is so pure and made of such top-grade, perfectly refined materials that it brings out all the goodness of the flour. It can't jeopardize, it can only enhance results, being itself odorless, flavorless and colorless.

Better than lard as a shortener—for baking, frying, cooking.
